A SEMI-MONTHLY PAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE SAN FRANCISCO STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

VOL. IV | FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1928 | NO. 5

FROSH HOP SAT. NIGHT

New Science Hall Is Named for Dr. Anderson

Notables Present at Building Dedication

"In memory of the gladness of his service and the sweetness of his character, this new science building is named the Archibald B. Anderson Hall of Science."

With these words Alexander R. Heron, State Director of Finance, named the latest addition to our new group of buildings, following the dedication luncheon.

Mr. Heron went on to tell about Dr. Burk in his address. "He insisted that everyone who came to his faculty should have some faith." The speaker recalled Dr. Burk's words: "I insist that any man who comes to the institution, of which I am president, must have a philosophy of life."

"The first president of this college was a lovable man," said Mr. Heron. "He was intensely devoted to his task, completely humble." The taking of the office of president, of the San Francisco State Teachers College, by Mr. Anderson, following the deatah of Dr. Burk, was next dwelt upon by the state director.

"That he, too, was a lovable man," was the keynote of all the speeches given throughout the luncheon. The dedicatory address, "The Cultural and Social Values of the Teaching of the Sciences," was given by Dr. Charles A. Kofoid, Professor of Zoology, Universit yof California. Dr. Kofoid is said to be one of the foremst scientists in the west.

A word of welcome, in the usual Roberts' style, was given to the guests at the opening of the luncheon by our president. The following guests, introduced by Mr. Heron, gave a few words of greeting: Mr. C. L. McLane, President of the State Board of Education; Mrs. Evelyn A. Clement, Chief of Division of Teaching and Certification; Mrs. J. E. Butterfield, President of the City and County Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. M. M. Fitzgerald, Chairman of the Department of Education; Mr. J. M. Gwinn, Superintendent of the San Francisco Public Schools; Mr. Chas. Albert Adams, Chairman of Commonwealth Club; Mr. Leon M. Voorsanger, Chamber of Commerce; Mr. P. Victor Peterson, head of Department of Natural Science, San Jose Teachers College.

The delegates for the occasion were Dr. Cardinal Goodwin, Mills College; Mr. Hermann F. Minssen, San Jose Teachers College; Dean Fred L. Farley, College of the Pacific; Dr. John F. Pobanz, Modesto Junior College; Judge J. W. Curtis, University of Redlands and University of Southern California.

Much of the success of the luncheon was due to the untiring efforts of the committee which was in charge. Mrs. Dorris was chairman of the committee; Mrs. Cooch and Miss Pickard her assistants.

It was a spring luncheon. The tables, which seated 220 guests, were decorated wtih baskets of spring flowers.

Franciscan Remains Annual Name After Petition

The prize of five dollars and a free annual remain unclaimed.. Faculty and student opinion determined that The Franciscan, the original name of the annual, was more distinctive and significant than any title submitted in the recent contest.

The editorial board of the year book received a petition signed by three hundred students asking that the name "Franciscan" be retained.

It is the opinion of Dr. Roberts and Dean DuFour that the original title is appropriate because this college is located in San Francisco. President Roberts pointed out that the name embodies the historical background of the state and city; and that it cannot be used by any other teachers college in California.

"The Franciscan" for 1928 promises to be the most attractive book ever produced at S. F. T. C., according to reports of the annual staff.

GLEE CLUB TO GIVE LEGEND

Plans are well under way for the operetta, "The Legend of Kashmir," which is to be given by the Glee Club under the direction of Miss Levy, club sponsor, at the High School of Commerce, May 4. It was through the courtesy of Mr. Joseph Gwinn and the San Francisco State Board of Education, that this splendid theatre was received.

Dr. Rypins, who will take the part of the High Priest in the prologue, tells the history of the legend. Thirty dancing girls, dressed in colorful and graceful costumes, declare their allegiance to their temple in a sacred dance. The Symbol Dance, in which twelve girls make effective use of symbols, promises to be spectacular.

Though it is not possible for all members of the club to take part in the operetta, seventy girls are scheduled for the performance.

Tickets will be one sale for fifty and seventy-five cents.

PRAYER RAISED FOR FIVE-FOOTERS

"God send us small women!" is the motto of the Sigma Mu Chi, short men's club, recently organized at Washington State College.

All members of the organization must be able to walk under a 5 foot 6½ inch bar. Butch Meeker, football star, is president, and leads in the prayer for short helpmates.

EUNICE FULLER DESIGNS HEAD

A vote of thanks is tendered to Eunice Fuller by the entire student body, as well as the board of control and the staff of the Bay Leaf. Miss Fuller spent many valuabel hours in designing the new heading of the Bay Leaf, thereby saving the paper a large sum of money.

BIDS FOR DANCE GOING FAST

Full Moon Predicted For Affair

As it promises to rival all the dances of the past, bids to the Frosh Hop are going fast and furiously. There are only a few left. These will be sold at the door Saturday night.

To keep pace with the "go get 'em" publicity committee, Marjorie Merry, chairman of the decoration group, has been applying her ingenuity most strenuously. The powers that be also expect the wholehearted cooperation of "la luna" that night. So the question arises, "What more could one want?"

The class, in the person of Marie Dietz, president, has expressed its pleasure that Dr. and Mrs. Roberts with their son and daughter, Miss McFadden, Miss Levy, and Miss Olsen, Miss Holmes, Miss Barbour, Miss Crumpton, Miss Vance, Dean and Mrs. DuFour, Miss Ward and Miss England are to be its guests that evening.

DR. REINHART'S ADDRESS POSTPONED

The address by Dr. Aurelia Reinhart, president of Mills College, scheduled for assembly April 14, has been postponed until sometime in May.

Her subject was felt to be of such vital interest to the students that the speaker was asked to delay her speech for a time when a full attendance would be assured.

The usual Wednesday assembly was not held because it was thought that many of the students would have left for their holiday destinations, since some of the afternoon classes were not held. Several of the instructors were away in different parts of the state attending conventions.

INTRODUCE MEMBERS OF PRIMARY FRATERNITY

The nine members of the Kindergarten Delta Phi Upsilon, the fraternity now being organized, were introduced by Dr. Roberts at the Wednesday Assembly, March 28th.

The president explained that the first honorary group goes back to 1776, when Williams and Mary's School at Virginia sensed the value of such an organization.

Phi Beta Kappa is a forerunner of the honor societies; it existed 150 years in college of liberal Art where there was interest in Math, History, etcetra. Later with the development of science, there was another demand for recognition; consequently the Sigma Psi came into being. These two groups are found in many colleges. Students often belong to both of them. Because of the success of the Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Psi, other honorary societies were organized, which fitted a particular need; these

Glee Club Gives Students Post-Easter Egg Hunt

The Egg Hunt, sponsored by the Glee Club, which was to have been held sometime before Easter, was postponed until April 12, because of the many activities going on in this college.

The campus below Anderson Hall was the scene of color and fun while the sprightly game of finding the gaily-tinted-hard-boiled-egg was indulged in by the students. The prize for the most energetic was a live bunny, which it is hoped has by this time found a good home. Dancing and chocolate eggs were added attractions of the day. Margaret Simpson and Ethel Byrne were among those instrumental in making this affair a novel and enjoyable event.

The Glee Club is undoubtedly showing its worth and spirit by the affairs it undertakes and makes successful.

INAUGURAL BANQUET BRILLIANT SUCCESS

The inaugural banquet honoring Dr. Alexander Roberts, president of the San Francisco State Teachers College, which was held at the Palace Hotel, March 31 proved a great success.

The after-dinner speeches were very interesting, and were greatly enjoyed by the guests. Mr. Charles Albert Adams, of the State Board of Education, was very witty and unique as a toastmaster.

Dr. Cardinal Goodwin, Mills College Dean of the Graduate School, gave a talk on "The Historical Point of View," in which he urged that the study of history would teach tolerance.

Mr. Joseph Marr Gwinn, superintendent of San Francisco Schools, spoke on "Learning on the Job." He said that if more San Francisco teachers started to learn on the job rather than LEAN on the ejob, San Francisco would have a better school system.

He hopes this college will help San Francisco teachers to continue learning on the job. He stated that his great problem wasn't how to get peopel into jobs, but how to get rid of them.

"A Problem That Interests Me," by Dr. Ralph Swetman, President of Humboldt State Teachers College, gave forth the idea that there were too many cranks in education; every professor believed that education consisted only of what he taught. Dr. Sweetman said that education was of no special subject, but that it was made up of all these edifferent subjects.

Dr. William Martin Proctor, Associate Professor of Education of Stanford University, talked on "The Problem of the Gifted Child." Once there was the problem of the gifted child; now every child is gifted. It has been found that the gifted child cannot go any faster than the average child. Dr. Proctor went on to say that it was now up to education to develop in each child this gift which is bestowed upon him.

Dr. Anita Muhl, Chief of Division of Special Education, State Department of Education, gave an

Dr. Burk Eulogized At Grounds Ceremony

Students Parade As Pilgrims

"Other memories we need not touch upon, but without regard for the loss, without fear for the future, he came here, and those who came with him shared his courage and started the institution which is still building," said Mr. Alexander R. Heron, former Deputy Director of Education, in eulogizing Dr. Burk at the ground breaking ceremony, March 31.

"Many years ago," Heron continued, "on this very spot, I stood with him, and in his prophetic vision he pointed out the things to come; and as he talked, and as I walked with him, I began to share the glamour of his dreams."

The speaker remarked on the significance of choosing a site on the terraces which overlooks the spot, not 100 yards away, where the first public school in California stood.

Though this state is known for its schools and care of childhood, to Mr. Allison Ware, a former faculty member of this college, there is no place in the entire state so fitting for a school, so revered by efforts toward educational progress, or so blessed with service to the aims of a nobler life, as the spot which has been used in fulfilling the ideals of Dr. Burk.

Having turned the earth for the new building, Mr. Ware concluded: "May this school ever stand for educational freedom, for creative courage, for indomitable striving, for human improvement and progress, for realization of practical ideals; and as it does stand, so shall it be forever the incarnate and envisaged soul of Dr. Burk."

Mr. William John Cooper, Director of Education in California, turned the earth in the name of childhood, and expressed the purpose of Dr. Burk, which was to provide for every child to develop and acquire habits and customs at his own rate.

Members of the San Francisco State Teachers College Alumni, and upper division students of the college took part in the procession, which represented pilgrims seeking a place on which to build a memorial to a gone leader. They, and the entire student body, accompanied by the Mission High School Orchestra, and led by Miss Levy, joined in singing the college hymn.

The ceremony was under the auspices of the alumni, and Miss Etta Tessmer, President, gave the opening address. Miss Elizabeth Myrick made the dedicatory speech, Miss Hazel Giles spoke for the pilgrims, Mrs. Reginald Kittrelle talked on the appropriateness of the chosen site, and Mrs. Lloyd Elliot,

Full House Attends "Man on the Box"

Mr. Coue would probably state in terms like this: "Every play, in every way, they produce them better and better."

Last night the College Theatre staged Marold McGrath's "Man on the Box" in the College Auditorium. The leads were taken by Josephine McSweeney and Frances Shire. They ably carried their audience back to the days of the coach and four with its quaint, lonely modes of travel. The members of the supporting cast were: Mr. Charles Henrerson, Orpha Corrigan; Miss Nancy Warburton, Beatrice Axelrod; Col. George Annesley, Elizabeth Bolen; Count Karloff, Margaret Cordazo; Col. Frank Raleigh, Gladys King; Monsieur Pierre, Dorothy Stack; Magistrate Watts, Regina Werne; Officer O'Brien, Elaine Garrett; Officer Cassidy, Margaret Stole; Cora, Fanny Salomon.

This is to be the last play this semester. For the fall term, however, Miss Casebolt is making big plans to keep the college actors busy and to entertain the rest of the student body.

The music for the play was furnished by Vivian Walsh.

LIBRARIAN ATTENDS STATE MEETING

Miss Fleming, the head librarian, will leave for Riverside, California, on the second of April to attend the annual meeting of the State Library Association. This meeting will be of special interest, as all the teachers' college librarians will meet together for the first time with Mr. Milton J. Ferguson, state librarian.

The State Library was formerly under the control of the Department of Finance. It is now affiliated with the State Department of Education, of which it is a division. Mr. Ferguson, as State Librarian, is Chief of the Division of Libraries. He has made a survey of all the state teachers' college libraries in the state, and therefore, should be able to give some valuable suggestions for the betterment of all.

Miss Fleming hopes that a great deal of good will come from this meeting, which will last for three days. She plans to take the remainder of April as a vacation. As yet, she has not made any definite arrangements for the spending of this vacation.

CAL. WOMEN TO DROP CAPS AND GOWNS

Caps and gowns will not be worn at the Baccalaureate services this year by Senior women, it was recently decided. Street clothes were selected, due to the inconvenience which the traditional robes have caused their wearers at the services and at the tea which follows at the president's house.

Gingham dresses were selected for the Straw Shuffle. In upholding the gingham dress, advocates pointed out the dangers to which good clothes would be subjected. The costume was unanimously accepted by the Seniors.

The attire of white sports dresses and white parasols, which has in former years been used for the Pilgrimage, will remain the same.

CO. SUPERINTENDENT ADVISES NEW TEACHERS

"The relationship of the county superintendent to the teacher" was the subject recently presented to members of the Education 143 class by Mr. David Martin, superintendent of the Alameda County Schools.

The speaker's first and last warning to the new teacher was to file her certificate in the county clerk's office; to use Mr. Martin's expression, "No certificate—no job."

Before the end of her first month's work every teacher must file a teacher's confidential report in the Sacramento office.

Mr. Martin, in conjunction with giving to the students this information, mentioned the great need of a teachers having motherhood in her heart.

Mrs. Dorris, the Tuesday following Mr. Martin's talk, gave an interesting illustrated lesson on the beauty of the classroom. Every room, according to the speaker, should be equipped for good, attractive, wholesome work. Equipment is most necessary; every classroom should have proper tools with which the child can work. Among those recommended by Mrs. Dorris are a good set of reference books, Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia preferably; a good magazine suited to the mental level of children, such as Compton's Pictured News.

The speaker closed her talk by illustrating a few slides of foreign life thus showing the value of these visual aids to the child.

Inauguration Thrills Auditorium Crowd

The inauguration of Dr. Roberts, president of the San Francisco State Teachers College, was held in the auditorium of the High School of Commerce, at 4 o'clock, March ~~19~~ 30

At 4 o'clock the delegates and faculty marched up on the stage, followed by Dr. Roberts. Charles L. McLane, president of the State Board of Education, presided over the meeting and introduced the speakers of the day.

The first address was made by Dr. Ellwood Patterson Cubberley, Dean of the School of Education at Stanford University. In his talk, Dr. Cubberley outlined the development of the teachers colleges during the nineteenth century. He told how a state teachers college was first established in San Francisco in 1862. Up to 1911 it was here and then it was removed to San Jose. San Francisco was recreated in 1899. In closing, Dr. Cuberley said: "I have known your new president for a long time, and I congratulate you that the man that has been brought here to direct the work."

The next address was given by William John Cooper, State Director of Education, on "What Manner of Child Shall This Be?" Mr. Cooper referred to the state teachers college as a child; showed how the college ewas made to be a purely professional school to train people to teach.

"The teacher must have a lighted torch," said Mr. Cooper, "must have an enthusiasm which will be caught in training and taken on to a little fallow in the first grade, that he may be proud to come to school, and that he may feel the same delight in his developing mental powers which he would feel in his increasing physical power on the track."

President Roberts then gave his inaugural response on "Arts and Artistry in Teacher-Training." "Arts are all academic work, and artistry is all professional work," said Dr. Roberts. He continued: "Some teachers have had all of one, while some teachers have had all of the other. The modern teacher must have both. More children are coming to the schools year by year and more trained teachers are required. These teachers must be specialists in some field of academic training and must know how to teach." The address closed with words of greeting and a pledge of cooperation to students, faculty, alumni, and officials of California, who are charged with the expenditure of public funds.

The music for the occasion was a male quartet, composed of C. Anderson, R. Saxe, C. Oliver, and R. Williams. The benediction was pronounced by Dr. Elijah Hull Longbrake, of Berkeley.

Heard from an instructor: "The radio will soon supplant the teacher. Students are so used to hearing noises in the air that they will not listen to the teacher."

Faculty Members Attend Convention

Mrs. McCauley and Miss England accompanied by Miss McFadden and Dr. Roberts attended the annual convention of Music Supervisors at Fresno on April 2, 3 and 4.

According to Mrs. McCauley, one of the outstanding problems for consideration at the meeting was that of music in the rural schools. As Fresno county has one of the best organized plans in the state for teaching music in its schools, its demonstration of sight singing, part-work, and ear training by groups of children from the rural districts, was enthusiastically received by the assemblage of supervisors. The remarkable work of these teachers and pupils proved that sight-singing and ear training was not only a valuable part of the daily program of a rural school, but an effective one as well.

This convention also considered a music program for the Junior High School. The question was raised as to the advisability of teaching sight-singing in the advanced grades. A girls' glee club from the Fresno Junior High demonstrated its ability to do all kinds of part work in sight-singing, and at the conclusion of the program, supervisors firmly agreed that this type of singing belonged in these schools.

Because of his known interest in the teaching of music, Dr. Roberts in his address on "Social Aspect of Music in the Public Schools," became a distinguished figure on the first morning's program. He was accredited the honor of being the first president of a teachers college to actively participate in a music supervisors' convention.

DANCING CLASS WILL ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

The entertainment for the girls' basketball division of the Industrial Athletic Association's dinner will be given by students from this college who have been trained by Miss Farrell. This dinner is set for April 18, 1928, in the Norman Hall at the Fairmont Hotel.

The program is composed of many types of dances. It moves very quickly from the gay dances to the more peaceful dancing, and then to the beautiful plastique work. Then once again, the grand finale takes one back to Spain where life and happiness govern the dance.

The program is as follows:

Pas de Deux, Thayer; Miss Farrell and Louise Tray.

Dances of Rythm: (a) Greek Ball Dance, Brahms; Alice Humphreys, Pat Schultz, and Anita Tierman. (b) Dance Excentrique, Hollande Robinson; Miss Farrell. (c) Floor Plastique, Rubinstein; Alice Humphreys and Anita Tiernan. (d) Dance of Ecstacy, Schutt; Vivian Green, Peggy Harrington, Alice Humphreys, and Pat Schultz.

Dances of the People: (a) Zoronge (Spanish), Tschaikowsky; arranged by Louis Chalif. (b) Vira (Portuguese), Folk Melody; arranged by Elizabeth Burchenal. (c) Tango (Spanish), Shilkeret; Miss Farrell and Louise Tray. (d) La Jota (Spanish), Folk Melody; arranged by Elizabeth Burchenal.

Dancers: Miss Farrell, Louise Tray, Elizabeth Boniface, Vivian Green, Mary Mecer, Fannie Salomon, Pat Schultz, Anita Tiernan.

Pianist, Evelyn Elster; violinist, Leah Boehm Tiernan.

HERTZ MAY DIRECT IN EAST

Alfred Hertz, director of the San Francisco Symphony, has received an invitation to be guest conductor of several concerts of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra next season, while Ossip Gabriowtsch, regular conductor, is in Europe. If Hertz accepts the engagement, a guest leader will be invited to take his place with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Modern Co-Ed Costs Plenty

Los Angeles, April 9.

Even if college girls wear only half so much as they do, it still takes plenty of money for clothes! This is the conclusion reached by a survey committee at the University of California at Los Angeles, which went on to declare that the cost of dressing a modern Co-Ed ranges between $96 and $519 a year.

These figures are taken from inventories prepared by a representative group of students in the Home Economics Department, who are beginning a three-year study of dress costs for the purpose of preparing budgets to guide college women.

At the beginning of the course, the students listed their complete wardrobe, giving the cost and present condition of each garment.

The inventory is divided into the following classifications: Protective garments, outer garments, shoes and stockings, hats, and accessories.

VOICE CLASS TO HAVE INDIVIDUAL TESTS

The Voice Class has subdivided into groups of five members to meet with Mrs. McCauley, instructor, for individual voice tests.

Mrs. McCauley is determining range, quality, and ability of students to phrase, after eight weeks of practice in Music 125. She claims to have discovered some beautiful voices, and has recommended training to many of the students.

Mrs. McCauley and members of the college quartet enjoyed a dinner-concert party at the Fairmont Hotel, Thursday evening, March 29.

A program of old songs, given by the "Throstles," an organization of San Francisco girls, provided inspiration for the college foursome and their coach. Members of the quartet are: Esther Rice, first soprano; Frances Stelzner, second soprano; Anna Johanson, first alto, and Emma Nash, second alto.

SPRIG HAS CUB

Sprig has cub! Kachoo! Sniff.... sniff! Handkerchiefs, red noses, and watery eyes are very much in evidence.

Even though March 21 ushered in spring, the sun only shines at short intervals between cloudbursts. Yet, somehow, everyone has some mild or virulent attack of spring fever.

An increase in the number of cuts in classes is not the only result of the advent of the most delightful season of the year. The library's interior is embellished by blossoms, lilac, and daffodils. The plant outside of Dean Ward's office is being replanted. Evidently, the gardeners are suffering from a virulent attack of the fever. Feminine students have donned gayer apparel. Speedball practice has started and spent-up winter energy will soon be expended upon a defensless soccer ball. At the first sign of balmy weather, golf clubs and tennis racquets were produced. In fact, certain golf fiends are finding it difficult to remain in class with the call of the golf links sounding in their ears.

The coming of spring is an annual event, but it never fails to awaken some adventurous or wanderlust spirit in everyone—even a "young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

UPPER DIVISION STUDENTS ORGANIZE

The Upper Division Students have organized into a group, similiar to that of the class organizations, because they felt that it is necessary to have some form of consolidation.

The officers who are chosen are as follows: President, Charlotte Law, who was chosen for this office because she is on the Executive Student Board and thus will be able to represent the group in Student Body affairs; Elinor McCloskey, vice-President; and Dorothy Boyeson, Secretary.

The members of this new group will undoubtedly plan and carry out some interesting and entertaining affairs, the performance of which may perhaps set a precedent for future Upper Division groups.

No dues are to be paid; any affair planned is to be proportionately financed by each participant. This may prove to be effective in providing the funds necessary for each affair when needed.

Dean DuFour Tells Of Early California

Beginning with an account of the Norsemen in California, Dean DuFour gave to the students of S. S. 18 an interesting introduction to the state's history, last Wednesday, April 4, in the regular 12:00 o'clock class meeting. Dr. DuFour discussed the report of a trip, to what was probably California that was found in some old Chinese records. The pleasant and informal way in which he treated the early Indian inhabitants, and the derivation of the word, "California," was enjoyed by his hearers. The background shown by his talk material seldom found in books, was greatly appreciated by the students.

Several new, as well as interesting courses, will undoubtedly be given by Dr. DuFour in the coming semester, including a six-point course in Western European history.

MISS REID TALKS AT AUDITORIUM

A health talk given by Miss Reid and demonstrated by pupils of the Frederic Burk School was the main feature on Tuesday, March 27, of the Thirteenth Annual Child Welfare Week, held at the Exposition Auditorium.

In her talk, Miss Reid touched upon many outstanding phases of health, as well as the well-known rules and habits. The value of rhythmical activties was especially considered as an important topic in itself.

Throughout this week, devoted to child welfare, many schools contributed to the various forms of entertainment. Leading authorities on health and diet gave talks to the mothers.

The Child Welfare Week, which occurs annually, is held under the auspices of the San Francisco District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. The California Congress of Parent and Teachers Association, as well as many leading doctors and child specialists, cooperate with this federation to make this week one of utmost benefit to mothers.

FACULTY SPEAKS IN VISALIA

Four faculty members of this college will be on the speaking program when the San Joaquin Valley Rural Supervisors' Association meets in the Municipal Auditorium of Visalia on Friday, April 13th.

Miss Helen Heffernan, Chief of the Division of Rural Education, has asked Misses Holmes, McFadden, Anderson, and Ward of this college, to take over the afternoon session of the meeting.

Dean Ward will discuss Individual Instruction in Arithmetic, a subject with which she is very familiar. Miss McFadden will speak on Individual Instruction in Language, and Miss Holmes 'talk will deal with the Phychological Significance of a Program of Individual Instruction.

Miss Anderson will discuss the organization and management of a school on the Individual Instruction basis, drawing much of her material from practical experience she has had in organizing and conducting demonstration schools here.

EDITORIAL

The chance of a school teacher's life time presents itself in San Francisco this week. But are the students of this college availing themselves of the opportunity? Decidedly, no. In our bay lie several large battleships belonging to the United States, and aboard these are gentlemen—some of foreign nobility it is said. They are only too glad to usher prospective "light bearers to little children" about the premises. We are heartily in favor of and strongly urge this valuable broadening of every student's education. Many a happy girls receives letters from foreign ports because of this simple foresight.

Spring has come! That time of year when you feel like "do or die" and, in reference to school, "do without" most decidedly. The next time the instructor posts a notice in the hall saying "There will be none of my classes held this week," board your teeming chariot (a No. 7) and ride to Golden Gate Park's grove of rhododendrons.

Sophisticated, as we always attempt to be, the editor dares not stoop to the term "Fairyland" to describe this sight. It is considered one of the outstanding springtime wonders in California and remains in its glory but a few weeks.

San Francisco State Teachers College was completely exterminated day before yesterday when airplanes roared over the school and dropped gas bombs upon the peaceful, unsuspecting domicile.

According to a modest statement of Miss Coolige, music supervisor, many a girl has received an enviable position by quietly mentioning her name to the superintendent. We grant the privilege of using the name of Bay Leaf at any time. It is truly surprising how rapidly a person gets by "closed" doors after "mentioning our name."

Eventually, one even passes thru the closed front door.

Tomorrow night the student body will be on the hop. These Freshmen promise us the time of our lives. Knowing what a notorious bunch of high-binders (pathetically speaking), the Freshmen are, we nevertheless expect excellent entertainment. We urge the attendance of the entire student body.

FACULTY WISH TO GIVE GOOD MARKS

We are trying to find out whom to blame for the plentiful supply of poor marks distributed at midterms. The students of one teachers college have decided that the instructors were to blame. According to Mr. Morse, the members of the faculty would like to give good marks if they could. Perhaps students will be dealt with as individuals in the future instead of being to their instructors as mirrors reflecting the words of a lecture back upon a blue book.

T. N. T.

As a new student at S. F. T. C., I was initiated into that mysterious method called the "class average system." At first I thought this device infallible, but now I see innumerable fallacies. It seems, according to one of the plans, that there must be as many A's as there are F's. Another theory, when put into practice, usually details a seventy-five per cent mark to the ranks of the deficient; therefore, a student who has three-fourths of an examination correct is below the average, and consequently, a failure. I advocate a system whereby a student who has satisfactorily completed seventy-five per cent of the test receives a C, and all other marks are ranged accordingly.

PRO TALKS BEFORE GOLF PLAYERS

Twenty-three students had an enjoyable evening at the golf dinner, which was held at the Women's Club, 609 Sutter street, Tuesday evening, April 3.

The table was decorated with a very attractive center piece composed of individual corsages of roses.

Mr. Goggins, the speaker of the evening, was introduced by Miss Hale. Mr. Goggins, a professional golf player, spoke upon handicaps, which were of great interest to all present.

Last terms' winner of the tournament, Hazel Bandettine, was not present to receive the silver cup. This term, for the first time, the W. A. A. will present the winner with a miniature silver cup and it will also inscribe her name upon the school cup, as was done last ferm.

are widely in existence throughout the country.

Dr. Roberts stated that similar groups have developed in high schools. There are honor rolls at graduation, and, besides, many scholarship lists have been prepared which serve a great purpose, for the National Tart Society came into existence with scholarship, leadership, and character as the basis. Now many students in high school belong to the Tart Society.

The speaker concluded his explanation by saying that if the Delta Phi Upsilon is a success at this college, other honorary societies will follow, giving an opportunity here for recognition of scholarship, leadership, and character.

After the Kindergarten-Primary group gave a song, the section marched to the stage where two members of the National Delta Phi Upsilon, Misses Barbour and Alcutt, were seated. Then nine prospective members were introduced to the assembly. They are as follows: Dorothy McGuffin, Claire Schell, Gladys Catchcart, Virginia McKinnon, Elizabeth Bruns, Averda Millikan, Gladys Hill, Emiline Purdie, and Lucile Schoenfeld.

College Student Conducts Glee Club

Anita Cavagnaro, a prominent Glee Club member in this college, has transferred some of her musical talents and ambitions to her home town, Napa, where she has been conducting and training a boys' glee club for the past six months.

The organization has been primarily for the study of part-work singing.

So successful have the members been in their renditions, that a place on home programs is always reserved for them.

A number of invitations to sing in neighboring communities have been received. San Rafael and Oakland are also on the list for future programs.

Anita has not confined her talents entirely to glee club work, but has also concentrated her efforts on a harmonica club. The incentive for this organization she attributes to a music course under the supervision of Mrs. McCauley, in which learning to play a harmonica was one of the requirements.

In addition to the fact that Anita possesses a great deal of natural musical ability, she accredits much of the success she has in handling these groups to the thorough training and unlimited experience afforded in this college and the Frederick Burke School.

BYRNES WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Ethel and Marian Byrne won the championship at Golden Gate Park playing tennis doubles, March 24.

Marjorie Pastlewait, San Jose singels champion, and Mrs. L. Bradford of San Francisco, participated at the tournament.

At one o'clock an eager crowd gathered to witness the event. With ideal weather conditions and a responsive audience the players were challenged to action. The winners' score was 6:4, 10:8.

Both the student body president and her sister were awarded a beautiful trophy of bronze by the Women's Park Tennis Club; these trophies will be held for one year. In order to retain these awards permanently, it is necessary that the holders win in the tennis tournament scheduled a year from now.

A Library Committee, which is to further better use of the children's library, and a Lines Committee, which is to help improve the Frederick Burke School, were appointed by the Frederick Burke Council at their last meeting.

Beatrice Canny started a very heated discussion on "Rewards and Privileges," after which Miss Wanzer, the children's librarian, addressed the teachers upon the Needs and Uses of the Children's Library."

interesting talk, "Mental Hygiene," on how the new science of mental hygiene would in time help to clean up many problems pertaining to the pupils. She further urged that all teaching institutions should make a study of all the handicapped children. She pointed out that a great knowledge of psychology is necessary in order to handle children; so that they can be broken of their spells or tantrums.

President Roberts, who proved a very gracious host, thanked the faculty for bestowing such great happiness upon the Roberts family. He went on to say that Dr. Muhl's speech was a good challenge and that San Francisco State Teachers College, which had a very good location for this cause, would in time start to train teachers who would teach the blind, the deaf, and the physically handicapped.

During Easter vacation seven members went to the state convention at Chico where chart rs for membership of the Epsilon Chapter were granted.

SOCIETY

The marriage of Miss Irma Jones and Mr. Percy Marples took place Sunday, April 8, at the First Congregational Church in Redwood City with Rev. Currie Officiating. The ceremony was performed at 12 o'clock, with only a few intimate friends present.

The bride wore a pink crepe de chine dress, with a small white straw hat to match, and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

Miss Peggy Reid, chum of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress was of yellow crepe de chine, with a small hat to complete the costume.

Mr. Paul Baker, a close friends of the groom, was best man.

Miss Jones, who first came to this college as a student, has been engaged in library work, here, for five years. During this time, she has made many friends, who wish her great happiness in her new step in life.

Mr. Marples, who is employed by the Great Western Power Company of this city, has recently arrived from Cheshire County, England.

After the ceremony a lovely wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. Baker in Palo Alto.

At the present time, owing to their positions, the couple are unable to go on a honeymoon. Later on, they are planning on a trip around the world, which will include a visit to Mr. Marples' mother, who lives in Cheshire County, England, and a visit to his sister, who is in Paris.

Dr. and Mrs. Roberts were guests of the Phi Lambda Chi house at a dinner held last Tuesday night. It is a custom of the club members to entertain different members of the faculty at dinner during the term. This helps the students and teachers to become better acquainted.

Iced orange punch and "college-made" cookies were served in Room 110 to visitors of Anderson Hall on Saturday, March 31. The cookies were made by the students of the Home Economics Club and were praised by all partakers.

Members of the Nyoda Club served the refreshments and deemed it their privilege to be of help on such a memorable day.

GLEE CLUB HAS SURPRISE PARTY

The afternoon of Tuesday, March 27, was not to be "all work and no play" for members of the Glee Club. After rehearsing, under the direction of Miss Levy, for the coming operetta, their new club rooms were made ready for a party, to the surprise of all except the committee in charge.

After refreshments were served, President Margaret Simpson presented Dr. Roberts with a Glee Club life-time membership card. Mr. David Martin, Superintendent of Alameda County Schools; Dr. Barney, Dr. Michell, Miss England, and Miss Wilson were guests of the afternoon.

The Hillcrest Club is the place chosen for the informal dance to be held by the Phi Lambda Chi Club, on Saturday evening, April 28th.

"During the term we have been giving such things as teas, house dances, and picnics," says Miss Dorothy Baker, president of the house, "but this is to be the real big event of the term."

According to Gussie Heggenson, chairman of the social committee, there will be some novelty dances, and other surprises, which will not be let out to the public until the night of the dance.

Tickets will be on sale April 1. The ticket committee is: Gussie HiHiggenson, Marie Dietz, Dorothy Baker, Nell Bayard, Gola Saunders, and June Sheets.

EXCHANGES

The average man at the Penn. University bested the average woman by 1.3 grade points, according to statistics compiled by the registrar's office. These statistics show that the male does not make higher grades, but he brings his averages up by taking more hours of work.

A marble tournament is to be held in the near future at Santa Clara College. So far the entrees for the tournament have been very heavy and a great deal of competition is expected. Secret practice is being carried on now in preparation for the big event.

The faculty of the S. J. T. C. has delivered an ultimatum on the cutting of classes by members of the various athletic teams.

One teacher in English who has specially stressed her refusal to excuse such cuts was surprised during one of her classes with a telegram, which read a follows:

"Miss Sprague:

"Unable to be at class. Remained at Sacramento to play final game.

(Signed) "Regli and Hawley."

Miss Sprague commented to the coach that the joke might have been more poignant had the telegram been sent collect.

Sad, but true, is the statement made by H. W. Holmes, Dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, declaring that "The student knows that he can drop the 'stuff' he is studying as soon as he had 'cashed in' at the entrance gates what he is learning in school." With such a system there is no search into educational values, and the true worth of studying is obscured.

The war that has been waged between freshmen, who refuse to wear green "dinks," and sophomores, who insist that this traditional cap be worn on the Washington State campus, has been unusually heated during the past few weeks.

The first year men, relieved from wearing the caps since Thanksgiving, have rebelled. When hostilities became serious, the interference of the Gray "W" Club settled the matter in favor of the Sophomores. However, the traditional battle still wages heatedly in the student opinion column of the Evergreen, Washington State's daily paper.

FOREIGN PAINTING EXHIBITED AT LEGION OF HONOR

The opening day last week of the foreign section of the twenty-sixth international exhibition of paintings from the Carnegie Institute at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor brought to the museum the largest crowd since the day of its dedication.

Hanging in the galleries are nearly 300 superb oil paintings, comprising the European section of the exhibit, on wide range of subjects. Artists from Sweden, England, Italy, Spain and other countries in Europe are represented with from three to five paintings.

On Monday and Thursday afternoons during this exhibition, which will continue until May 13, Miss Evelyn P. Ellsworth will give special talks in the sculpture court, followed by promenade talks in the galleries. These will be given free to the public and will take place from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Vivian Walsh, class of June '30, was the assisting artiste at a piano recital given by William Lavy and Juan Lopez at the Arrillaga Music College, April 13. Miss Walsh, aside from her college work at teachers college, is working for her violin teacher's degree at the Music college.

Miss Reid Collects Big Fish

Miss Reid has begun to establish an aquarium. She has collected three varieties of moon fish, golden, blue and speckled, which, together with some specimens of the tropical fish, gupuy vivipara, give fine promise of a future "Steinhart" acqarium.

There are also three turtles outside of Anderson Hall whom Miss Reid has named Winken, Blinken, and Nod. Since the turtles live on grass and no water, and do not wander very far, they will, undoubtedly, roam over the campus for years to come. Miss Reid believes that the turtles will make good mascots because they live to such an old age. These, in addition to the rabbits that Mr. Ray let loose last fall, give us the makings of a zoo in and about the Science Building.

KWFI Singer Entertains Students

The hearty applause that was given to Carmen Saucedo, the Spanish girl who sang to us at last Wednesday's assembly, indicated our appreciation and great pleasure that we received from her vocal selections.

Miss Saucedo, who is Spanish Castilian, formerly lived in Mexico City, and has been in this country only four months. She and her family are refugees from the religious persecution that is still going on in Mexico.

Although she sings over radio station KFWI on Tuesday nights, she seldom sings before an audience. Miss Vance, who has heard her sing over the radio, says that her voice sounds a great deal more charming when she doesn't sing over the air.

All of Miss Saucedo's family are musical, and her brother, who accompanied her, has distinguished himself as a composer.

A practical first aid demonstration was given by Mr. Palmer, director of the Life Saving Department of the San Francisco Chapter, American Red Cross, in Miss Clary's P. E. 10 class Tuesday, March 6.

Mr. Palmer, who was ably assisted by his co-worker, Mr. Carroll, demonstrated the various methods of rescuing and administering first aid to a drowning person. This was followed by an emergency carrying lesson, in which Mr. Palmer very deftly showed members of the class proper ways to carry injured people.

According to some of the students present, the demonstrations were very interesting and were well received by the class.

T. C. MERMAIDS TO COMPETE WITH Y. W.

The swimming meet between San Francisco Teachers College and the Young Women's Christian Association will be held Tuesday, April 17, at 3:45 p. m.

The mermaids will compete in many different events a few of which are:

Free style dash, fifty yard free style dash, and the twenty-one yard back stroke. Plunges and dives will also be featured in the contest.

The entrants from this college are: Agnes Frey, Marion Donaldson, Lillian Bianchini, Bertha Mahikoa, Marie Dietzie, Babe Murphy, Evelyn Lucey, Beatrice Sheldon, Gladys Foster, Esther Lynn, Miriam Lynn, and Barbara Kane.

The swimming manager, Mary Shea, urges the students to come to the meet and support the team and also see the Water Polo game at the close of the contest.

COLLEGE ATHLETES GO TO SAN JOSE

The San Jose State Teachers College has invited the San Francisco Teachers College to participate with them May 12, in a Play Day, an annual event.

Last year this affair was held by S. F. T. C. at Fleishacker's Playground and San Jose was well represented.

The many events of the day will include speedball, volley ball, tennis, swimming, and other types of sports which will be mentioned later.

The W. A. A. plans to rent a stage to take the students from this college to San Jose and home again. The cost for each individual will be very reasonable, so that everyone may afford to go.

President "Pat" Schultz of the W. A. A., wishes the cooperation of every club member, as well as students who are the least bit interested. Pat will have a poster.

Plans to send the Stanford baseball team on a tour of Australia this summer are being considered by the board of athletic control. Tentative arrangements include sailing from here the first part of July and returning the last of August. Sanction of the trip is expected this month.

Clarence Sypher, a senior and catcher of last year's team, was elected captain of the nine at the meeting held Monday night, April 9th.

T. C. VOLLEYBALLERS DEFEAT TAMALPAIS

The San Francisco Teachers College Volley Ball Team was the victor over Tamalpais High School Friday, March 23, in the New Gym by the very close score of 39-40.

The first quarter passed very quickly, and Tamalpais High led by the score of 9-12. Then the S. F. T. C. players "Put their heads together" and decided that something must be done.

Led by Captain Ethel Byrne, they did that something and by the end of the half the score was 20-14 in favor of S. F. T. C.

During the third quarter, both teams played hard. Tamalpais was favored in this quarter and made ten points, but the San Francisco players kept the lead by the score of 25-24.

The teams were evenly matched. The participants were forced to play with great care as one point might have lost the game. Tamalpais players, who were coached by Mrs. Hall and Miss Stump, tied the score at the end of the fourth quarter making the score of 31 all.

The captain of each team asked to have the time extended. The request was granted by the officials.

The final score of 39-40 gave the victory to S. F. T. C.

The line up was as follows: Tamalpais High School players were Sue Maurer, captain; Edith Mood, Doris Kriel, May Manny, Carmen Mauris, Lillian Scherone, Margaret Winnie, Carrig Titch, Beryle Stubs.

Teacher's College players were: Ethel Byrne, captain; Lucille Savage, Mary McGloin, Marion Donaldson, "Bunny" Pierce, and Ethel Anderson.

HERE AND THERE

Miss Farrell spent her Easter holidays at her home in San Diego. She reports that she had a very enjoyable time and is looking forward to another such visit.

According to recent announcement received by Dean Ward, Mrs. J. Patterson, formerly Bess Rouse, a student of this college, is the proud mother of an eight and a half pound baby girl.

Ah, he could pause a moment for a breath. The others were far behind. He wondered if at the crucial moment his legs would fail him. A little prayer ascended heavenward from an anxious heart. They were rapidly approaching! He must rest there no longer if he wished to reach his goal first. Taking a deep breath, he made a heroic effort and away he went. The huntsmen dashed into view just as he reached his earthen home. Safe at last! Such is the exciting life of a jack rabbit.

To assure themselves of a good coat of tan, freckles, and sunburn, as well as a rousing kick-off for their Easter vacation, the Misses Kleinhans, Sellman, Kaplan, and Levin spent the whole of last Thursday playing tennis at Buena Vista Park.

DOROTHY BAKER IS HONORED

Miss Dorothy Baker, president of the Phi Lambda Chi, has been chosen by Dr. Roberts to represent S. F. T. C. in the Oakland School system.

Every term one inexperienced teacher is chosen from San Francisco State Teachers College, university of California, Stanford University, and Mills College, to teach in Oakland.

The student appointed is judged on her scholarship, her practice teaching, her extra-curricula work, her committee experience, and her personality. This time Miss Baker was selected from over two hundred students by the president and his committee.

Miss Baker has attended this college for three years, and during this time, has been active in both school and social affairs. She is from Nevada City, but at present is living at the Phi Lambda Chi house.

The students of this college wish to be up-to-date in the knowledge of school law affecting their future work. Little has been done about Sabbatical Leave in California. Terre Haute is the second city in Indiana to grant paid Sabbatical Leave to teachers. The Board of Education of that city passed a resolution at its December meeting granting a leave of absence every seven years of one per cent of the teachers who have been teaching in the city schools for seven or more years for study and travel. Certainly California should try to keep pace with the other states.

The engagement of Ida Hurliman, a former president of our Student Body, and a member of the class of August '24, to Mr. Lawrence Newport, was recently announced at a reception given to the couple in the Rose Room of the Palace Hotel.

"The Subject Matter of General Science," Mr. Mundt's latest two unit course, which meets every Saturday morning, now boasts of an enrollment of over forty members. The class is chiefly composed of graduate teachers interested in the teaching of science.

DR. BURK EULOGIZED AT GROUND BREAKING

President of the Frederick Burk Parent Teachers Association, spoke in the name of parenthood. Miss Marian Caro presented the spade with which the ground was broken.

Mrs. Genevieve McKinley Brown sang "Eye Hath Not Seen," and a cornet solo, "the Lost Chord," was played by Miss Dorothy Petsch. Marjorie Hofmeister, of the Frederic Burk School, presented the spade to Dr. Roberts, who, as a contribution of the faculty and teachers of the college, turned a shovel of earth, and in devotion to the man in whose honor the group had met, gave the name, "The Frederick Burk Elementary School."
